Jan meant so much to so many....

To her Heavenly Father, she was a good and faithful servant whose love for the Lord was a beacon for all to see.

To her children, she was a wise and loving source of encouragement and support.

To her granddaughters, she was the perfect Grandma who was always there for them.

To her “great-grands”, she was the absolute best Grandma on the planet who introduced them to Pine Cove Camp and made sure each one was able to go, have fun, and form a closer relationship with the Lord.

To her siblings, she was “Tike”, a tiny but big force to be reckoned with.

To her many nieces and nephews, she was “Auntie Tike” who loved each one of them unconditionally.

To her friends, she was a Sister of Strength, bible study leader and student, mentor, prayer warrior, confidante, counselor – a true friend beyond measure.

Jan will be remembered as a godly woman whose life was rooted in the Word. Every

“ Dear Jan’s family and friends,
I am so sorry for your loss. I hope you find comfort in the good memories. Jan was my good neighbor for these many years. I will miss her so, as will other neighbors. She was very friendly, a good listener, and very wise. Just the little things she did were sweet. She made sure I and others knew about the last few neighborhood night outs and with her planning, we went in on coordinated cupcakes at this last one. She would attend and it seemed somehow she made sure everyone was interacting instead of just being wall flowers. She was there in the last few years to comfort and advice when our family lost a loved one and even arranged I attend an outing for soup and salad dinner with her girlfriends. Her cottage garden is the envy of the neighborhood with such beautiful plants and she always welcomed a sit down at the little bench. She always welcomed me inside or waved a friendly hello. I found it amusing how she acquired and had an accidental collection of a couple of very sweet ceramic tea cup and saucers and she found it amusing I had an accidental collection of a couple of silly ceramic snowmen. We both laughed. There were many funny little things or quite events over the years: the time when her husband cut the mountain laurel back a little too much and we were both hoping it would leaf out; it is now the best looking laurel on the street. She helped with my families March of Dimes collection effort. It was scary when she had a giant bee hive in the big street tree but later we laughed about it when they were gone.
