“ What can I say but this man had patience and love for the stubbornness. I grew up with his girls and always had a project going and always had me and his daughter Monica either mess it up or in the way. But he didn't care he put it to the side to hang out with us. He always told me I was one of a kind think he meant I was loud and crazy but it was ok because the following weekend he had me over again. Think it was a way of saying come on over... He and his wife are amazing people loved them dearly.. Rest in peace ,
Thank you for all the wonderful memories. Love you and the family, Carol Sanchez Rodriguez

“ I have far too many memories with my dad, he has a passion for falling asleep in the recliner no matter who was at his house. He was always ordering from amazon and adding something to the RV. He loved his RV and truck, he was sure there was always something he “needed.” He was super scared to hold any babies before they were 6 months old, and he did not change diapers! I remember all the cheesy jokes that he would say when we would go out to dinner and watch the waitress turn red in the face. One of a kind person and my dad genuinely helped everyone in any way he could!

“ I worked with Mike when he was at the Dog School. Mike was a great instructor and administrator. He also had a fun side as we would occasionally see at Instructor gatherings at various places at the dog school. He trained a lot of men and women to be great dog handlers. My prayers are for his family and friends. May they find comfort in this time of sorrow.

“ Cindy my friend but I consider you my sister after working with you all those years. I remember having the privilege of meeting Mike only one time in person but the way you always spoke of him was if I knew him for a long time. As you spoke about him it always appeared to me that you were proud and loved this man who loved his daughters and was not only a father but a teacher to them. I would see pictures of him & his grandchildren, a proud loving grandfather. A beautiful family. He will be surely missed but the love & memories will never be forgotten. Rest In Peace Mike. Cindy may God be with you and your family in this time of need. TERRI Garcia
