

Adan Quiroz De Leon

June 18, 1939 - October 1, 2014

Adan "Adam" Quiroz De Leon, 75, passed away October 1, 2014 at the Downtown Baptist in San Antonio, TX after battling a sudden onset of pneumonia. His wife Hortencia, who recently celebrated 48 years of blissful matrimony on September 12th, survives Adan. Additional survivors include his three daughters Lyla Ayala, Monica Perez, Jessica Torres; nine grandchildren - Kelly, Melissa, Emily, and John Ayala; Ashley Gonzalez, Alyssa and Marena Gallo, and Courtney Perez; Adan Gregorio Torres; three siblings- Alicia Christ, Frank De Leon, and Ofelia Rangel. Adan also leaves behind three son-in-laws Juan Ayala, Mark Perez, and Armando Torres. Adan also known as "El Musico" had a wonderful, giving spirit, which radiated in every part of his being. "Money doesn't matter because you are not taking it with you" was his motto and would give you the shirt off his back. Among his many accomplishments was serving 43 years with the City of San Antonio, 28 years of Army and Army Reserve, was a musician playing the accordion, drums, and guitar; painting in his free time, teaching Sunday school, volunteering at Mission San Jose festival, and always being available to his friends and family. Those who truly knew him will not be short of incredible memories of the celebration that was his life.
