I am the son of Charlie Newton who worked for Campbell. I remember 2 fishing trips from Port Aransas that we all took. I was about 12 years old (or so) some time about 1973/74 or possibly 75. We all had a great time and I know that Alex for a while was able to tour around the state as a Campbell's employee as part of his job (or maybe all of his job). I was blessed to know Alex and will miss him. My friend Manny Reyes here at Houston Community College and I talk about Alex often.

I knew Alex as only Mr. Camacho at the clinic. He was kind, smart and quiet. He was a brother in arms and I will miss him.

“Gloria and Camacho family. Alex and I met at General Mills as the National Retail Organization began. Alex had so much expertise in San Antonio and the food industry that he quickly was identified as a leader and mentor. Alex loved seafood and good food, taking me to many places I never would have found. We had many a coldest beer in San Antonio together. I trusted Alex and respected his advice and valued his friendship. I was truly blessed to call him my friend. He was a blessing.

My sincerest condolences to Mrs. Camacho, Nuni, and the rest of the family. Carlos and I were best friends in 3rd grade at St. Mary's Catholic School. The las time I saw Alex was at the Pearl at a dance about 16yrs ago, sponsored by the Alhambras. I bought my ticket From Wes Athey, who passed away about a month back. We had seen not each other 1958. At that dance I was on my way to the bar, Alex was on the way to the

R. R. We passed each other, both took about 2 or 3 steps, stopped and turned, I said Alex ? He said Eddie ? We smiled, shook hands and hugged. He told me where you were sitting, after we finished doing what we were headed to do, I went to your table, said Hi to Nuni and met the rest of the family. I hace told that story to many over the last 16 or so years. Most don't believe me, ut I tell them just because you don't see your best friend for 40yrs you don't forget them. Alex and I had some good times back then, whether he kept me out of trouble or I kept him out if trouble, I plead the 5th ! 🙄💙🙏 R.I.P. ALEX, MY BROTHER & FRIEND

I don't care how many times I had to call him with questions or clarification he was always so kind and patient with me! He was always such a trooper when we had to dress up at retail he was Elvis one year and had to wear a pink shirt And a wig! , he was always such a gentleman and so kind! God bless your family with much grace as y'all grieve the loss of your loved one! You will be in my prayers! Lord have mercy on his sweet soul and may perpetual light shine upon him!
