

Alex Anthony Olivarez

January 19, 1988 - February 22, 2026

With heavy hearts, we announce that Alex Anthony Olivarez, 38, of San Antonio, Texas, passed away on February 22, 2026 in San Antonio, TX, the place he called home.

He was born in San Antonio, Texas to Alejandro Olivarez and Sylvia Hernandez, on January 19, 1988. He went to Southwest High School and Job Corp, where he gained an Electrical certificate, which led him to be an Independent Business Owner of Light it Up Solar.

Alex was full of life in a way that is hard to put into words. He didn't just walk into a room – he filled it! He greeted everyone with a smile and, as anyone who truly knew him can smile and say, with that loud, unforgettable voice that instantly let you know he was present. That voice wasn't just volume – it was joy, it was personality, it was Alex!

He loved hard, laughed loud, and lived unapologetically. He was the kind of person who could turn an ordinary moment into a memory. Whether he was blasting Morgan Wallen at full volume, singing every word like it was written just for him, or sitting at a comedy show laughing until tears rolled down his face, Alex embraced life fully. He didn't hold back his happiness – and he didn't hold back his love either.

He had a way of making people feel included, like you belonged just by being near him. His energy was contagious. His laugh was unforgettable. His presence was comforting. When Alex was around, things just felt lighter.

The world feels quieter without his voice in it. The rooms feel different without his laughter echoing through them, but the love he gave, the memories he created, and the joy he spread will forever live on in the hearts of everyone who was blessed to know him.

Alex wasn't just full of life – he was life to so many of us and he will be deeply loved, endlessly missed and never forgotten.

Alex is survived by his daughter, Aubree Olivarez and Sylvia Olivarez, step children, Daniel Vela and Serenity Vela, Mother, Sylvia Hernandez and spouse, Ezechiel Hernandez, Father, Alejandro Olivarez and spouse, Veronica Cortinas, sisters, Amanda Mendoza, Alexis Olivarez, Iliana Olivarez, brothers, Ismael Hernandez, Giovanni Olivarez, as well as several nieces and nephews. He is preceded in death by his beloved daughter, Reanne Olivarez. Though their time on earth was not what it should have been, their bond was unbreakable. We find comfort in knowing they are reunited in eternal peace.

“ One of my most special memories of you was your 38th birthday. None of us knew it would be your last, yet it became one of the best days we shared with you this year.

We will cherish every single memory of you— all the random BBQs and last-minute birthday parties filled with hugs, music, dancing, laughter, and the joy of being together.

Son, you will be deeply missed and forever remembered. I love you more than words can ever express. From now on, wherever we go and whenever we gather, we will always save you a seat—because you will forever be part of us. Until we meet again, you will live on in our hearts every single day.

“ Alex, all my memories of you go back to childhood. You are huge a part of any memory I reflect on when revisiting some of my favorite pastimes.

My heart hurts for those closest to you that you've left behind, I hope they're comforted by the same warmth your memory brings.

My happiest memory is getting ice cream after school and seeing your little red-stained face ask if I wanted to race you. We were both the smallest in our class so one of us always had to be faster. I let you win most of the time 😊

You'll be missed dearly

“ First, condolences to the whole family and all his friends. I met Alex many years ago, I always admired how positive he was and how much he loved his children. I love how he would always ask me about how my life was going which not many people do. Im unsure how to process this but I promise to him that I will always continue to appreciate life and share my love with those closest to me.

“ My deepest condolences to you and your family Sylvia And Alex. There are no words that can truly capture the pain of losing a child no matter their age. They remain forever in our hearts, mind and souls. We bring them into this world with love and though their time here may be shorter than we ever imagine, they now rest in peace among the angels with God's in heaven. Sincerely Debbie Rios Urias

“ I haven't found the right words until today. I'm still in disbelief

My little best friend, my forever boy crush, Alex ☐

We've known each other since elementary school, and I will always remember your cute little smile, your missing teeth!! your spiky hair, and those adorable little outfits you used to wear. One of my favorite memories that will stay in my heart forever is nap time in elementary. We would run to grab our mats and hurry back to the carpet just so we could lay next to each other. Sometimes we'd even hold hands and fall asleep. Lol. Such sweet, innocent memories that I'll cherish forever. You had such a great heart, Alex. You were always trying to do better, always pushing forward. Just The way you loved your babies!! That's something I admired about you so much.

I'm going to miss you more than words can explain. I love you. Until we meet again... see you in heaven, handsome. ❤️❤️

“ Alex took me all the way to Seattle to Morgan Wallen concert. I didn't realize that one day that trip would become one of the memories I hold on to the tightest. Thank you son for that moment, for the laughter, for the time we shared. My heart is shattered in a way words can't truly explain. I will forever miss the memories we shared and those that were yet to come. No matter where life takes me from here, I will carry you in everything I do. I love you more than words could ever express son! Until the day I see you again, I will miss you every single day! Love you! Mom

“ Well forever, miss Alex Anthony Olivarez, but he will not be forgotten cause we will always have him in our hearts. I remember the barbecues that we had at his father's house. He always had a big smile. He was very beautiful person that love through the years. He always greet his uncles and aunts with lots of respect. That's one thing I will never forget about him. And he will be loved. And I'll have them in my heart forever.

“ Losing you has been one of the hardest things our hearts have faced. You weren't just my cousin, you were family in the truest sense, a friend, a protector, and a light in our lives. The memories we shared, the laughter, the inside jokes, and the moments only we understood will stay with me forever. Though you are no longer here with us, your spirit lives on in our hearts and in every story we tell about you. I will always cherish the bond we had and carry your love with me every single day. 🧡
