“ Alex was the closest to a brother for me, he lived his life to the fullest and always true to himself. He was generous and full of life and always ready with a sharp comeback. You were one of the strong branches of our family tree and you will be missed. Thank you for the memories, I know you're soaring wherever you are, RIP my brother.

“ Alex was a friend that you didn't mind having, you could say that we spent most of our lives growing up together, He always showed nothing but respect to his friends and their families. We also played compatible sports and as always was a team leader ,I know that if he was in better shape before his illness he would get the boy's together and give it a go once again. Alex now you are at Pease ,the gates of heaven open to all good people and you truly fall in that category . My deepest condolences to Epi and to his family. I'll never forget my friend.
