“Tito, you have departed this earthly life, but not our hearts and memories.

You were a man of courage, a man of vision and was endowed with one of the greatest virtues that a man can have...humility.

I don't know if the question "Why?" ever really goes away when we lose someone we love. But I know what really helps me is knowing that before you died you died on your terms; At home, surrounded by your family and dying peacefully in bed while asleep.

Life is a series of transitions and the loss of a love one is one of the most difficult that we all must face.

But there is no growth without change

There is no change without loss

There is no loss without grief

And there is no grief without pain

As you mourn this tremendous loss Tita, just know that we love you and will not let you walk through this alone.

You will always have a shoulder to lean on, a friend to pray for you.

Suffering teaches us God's compassion and grace.

Helping someone in pain displays Jesus' love.

Remember God doesn't leave us when we are in pain,

He listens to our prayers,

He is always close to us.

In the days ahead we hope to think less about all we lost and grow more thankful for all we gained from knowing and loving you.

You were a loving and responsible person.

We remember you as a dedicated and loving husband and father.

Tito, your suffering is over.

Sleep now in the arms of Jesus.

We shall meet again in Heaven.

-your loving nephew,

Joseph

“ Last time to see my beloved Uncle was Easter week 2019. Also wanted to share a beautiful memory of a wonderful moment for the family, Courtney’s wedding day. I thank God for the love and dedication he shared with his family and friends. He will be truly missed.
