“ We are deeply saddened to announce the passing of our beloved grandmother, Alma, at the age of 99. She lived a long and remarkable life filled with love, strength, and countless beautiful moments. Alma’s legacy is one of hard work, deep family bonds, and a love for life that touched everyone she met.

Born in 1925, Alma’s journey began in Lavaca County, Texas, where her family made a courageous move in 1933, traveling by wagon to a farm between Sweet Home and Mont, Texas. Alma attended Thompson School, located on the farm next to her family’s land, where she learned the values of perseverance, dedication, and community. That same schoolhouse still stands today, now a historical marker, a testament to Alma’s deep roots and the history she was a part of.

Grandma’s life was not only marked by her resilience, but also by the warmth and kindness she shared with everyone around her. She was an incredible storyteller and took great joy in sharing the wonders of her garden with us, passing on her passion for growing flowers and imparting her cherished gardening secrets. Her love for the earth and its beauty was something that made her truly unique.

We will always remember the simple joys she shared with us, like the afternoons spent swimming at her apartment, followed by delicious popcorn. And who could forget the colorful box of crayons we could use to color with.

Grandma also touched our lives with her words. She was a faithful letter writer, sending handwritten notes filled with encouragement, wisdom, and love, especially when I was in college. Those letters were treasures, a reminder of her caring spirit and the timeless connection she maintained with those she loved.

Throughout her life, Alma worked tirelessly and accomplished so much, but what we admire most was her humble spirit and the way she poured her love into everything she did. Whether it was tending to her garden, writing letters, or simply sharing a moment with family, her presence was a gift.

Alma leaves behind a legacy of love, strength, and kindness. She will always be remembered for her warm heart, her wisdom, and the many special moments she gave us. As we say goodbye to our dear grandmother, we celebrate a life well-lived—a life that will continue to inspire us and live on in our memories.

*Rest in peace, Grandma. You are deeply missed and forever loved.
Love your granddaughter, Susan*
