

André L. Christian

March 31, 1982 - April 12, 2020

Andre' LaMont Christian was born to his loving parents Steve Christian and Cynthia O'Hare. He was preceded in death by his adoring grandparents Jerome and Doris Christian and William and Sophie O'Hare. He is celebrated through his cherished siblings La Keisha Christian and Nathaniel Young. His legacy is carried on through his kindhearted children Andrew and Samantha Christian. Dre' had a charismatic, lively, and magnetic personality which made everyone laugh and smile. His outer attractiveness was almost matched by his inner exquisiteness. He was passionate about many things in life and one thing that stood out was his love for sports which he shared with his son Andrew. Since Andre' was a natural protector and provider, his main priority was being fully present and supportive of his children. His presence commanded everyone's attention and gained the respect of all who knew him. Andre' LaMont Christian is truly a blessing to all his family and friends. Legends never die and Andre' is definitely one who will be forever remembered in our hearts and memories. Thank you for all the precious memories and wonderful experiences.

“ Andre made a significant difference in my life. He made me a better teacher and mother.

When I was in high school, I spent a couple of summers with his family as their summer nanny. Rules were very important and I had high expectations. One gloomy day, Andre had been playing in his room and left the light on upon exiting. I asked him to return and turn the light off. After about five minutes, he did not return.

Concerned that he either ignored me or had gotten up to something else, I went to find him. There he was in his room jumping up trying to reach the light switch. He said, "I was trying, Aunt Carrie!" I scooped him up, turned off the light and learned in that moment to never make assumptions and to be sure you know someone has the ability to complete any task you give them. Andre always tried to do the right thing, make others happy, and find ways to do things that he truly wanted to do. He will be missed!
