

Andrew W. Anderson

August 19, 1925 - March 4, 2005

Andrew W. Anderson, Jr. went to his eternal rest with the Lord on Friday, March 4, 2005. Born in 1925 in San Antonio, Andrew married Josephine Lugo in 1951 and, they raised six successful children together during their 53 years of marriage. He served in the Air Force from 1943-46 during World War II in the Asiatic Pacific Theater and the Victory Medal American Theater. He served with the 349th Airborne Squadron in China, Burma and India. He returned home to work as a journeyman sheet metal mechanic, became shop foreman and union steward. He was instrumental in acquiring medical and pension benefits for his local. He retired after 35 years of dedication to his craft. Andrew loved to fish, camp and hunt which he shared with his family. He encouraged and was supportive of his children and felt he lived a long and fulfilling life without any regrets. He is survived by his lovely wife, Josephine; son, Robert Anderson; daughters and their husbands, Virginia and Tom McCabe, Annette and Charles Olmsted, Julie and Phil Sinclair, Shirley and Tommy Saathoff, Laura and Tim McGill; grandchildren, Kevin McCabe, Laura McCabe, Alison Reynolds, Cheryl, Sarah and Matthew Sinclair. He is also survived by brothers, Johnny and Jimmy Anderson; sisters, Tina Prado, Angela Weise and Martha Flores.

“ My heart feels your pain at the loss of Andy. My prayer is for strength for each of you in the coming days.
Two Psalms I would share: "Weeping endureth for the night, joy cometh in the morning" and "Be still and know that I am God."
