“Wow...time flies...I remember baptizing you as an infant...seeing you grow up and be a fine and kind-hearted young woman...dedicating yourself to help out your mom...loved your baking...the most memorial event I remember is the time you dedicated your life to the Lord and were water baptized and accepted the Lord as your Savior...church members remember you and your mom blessing the church with your baked goods...loved your Wonder Woman attitude...you are now at rest and in the hands of our Lord...

Love you,
Tia Susana C. Mendez

“ Childhood memories consisted of ice cream dripping down our fingers and dirty band aids on our scraped knees. Our innocent laughter echoed throughout every yard running their sprinklers with our koolaid smiles laced with pure innocence. Memories of letting you drive my car almost crashing into Uncle Adam's picnic bench as grandma watched through the kitchen window yelling, "ANIMALES!!! quickly turned into adulthood, sipping on those strong margaritas. Then... The reality of how fragile life is really hit hard. Our most meaningful conversations the last two monnths of your life will linger in my mind and forever be carried in my heart when you said, "Bernie... I really miss my mom. I miss her so much. I'm not afraid to die. I'm afraid of leaving this world without telling everyone how much they mean to me and how much I love them. I need to say my goodbyes." My beloved kid cousin, little sister, and friend, Nettie, those words and conversations to follow will never be forgotten. I pray that an ounce of your love and genuine sincerity can make us all stronger, kinder, friendlier and more giving to our families, friends, neighbors and strangers. I love you, and thank you for opening my eyes and my heart to the real meaning of life. The tragedy of life is not death but what we allow to die inside ourselves while we still live, I suppose...

“ I met Annette through her Uncle Adam and Aunt Susana Mendez, my Compadres. We would share July 4th, Thanksgiving, and some Christmas's at their home in fellowship. Annette loved baking so she would bring dessert. At the time, she was her Mother's caregiver and a good Daughter. When her Mother gained her wings Annette grew closer to me. Through those years we developed a friendship so she'd come over and we would watch movies with my kids, go walk downtown, and go out to eat. She was very out going and my kids really enjoyed spending time with Annette. She would take them to have frozen yogurt and when she promised anything, she would come through on her promise. She loved spontaneity, she loved life, and she will be missed. Fly high my Friend and thank you for the memories. ❤️

“ I don't know where to even begin. We met in 7th grade and have been bff's since. We were suppose to get old together and terrorize people we disliked. We were supposed to do so much dumb things as we got older. I will miss the countless laughs, talks and tears. It's only been a week and I'm so lost without you. My kids loved you as much as I loved you. I'm glad I got to see you one last time days before you past. We smiled, shed tears and gave air kisses to each other. I loved you more than I ever told any female friend. I will continue to love you and hold you in my heart forever. I will keep your memory alive as long as I live. You will continue to be alive even as you are an angel with mom. Keep smiling from up above.

“ I had the pleasure of working with Annette the last few years of her precious life. She LOVED her job and took great pleasure in helping others with their medical needs. Annette always had such a positive attitude and I truly enjoyed our regular meetings. Her inner strength during difficult times was admirable. Annette was a blessing and now a very special angel. I will miss her dearly!

“ Annette, from the first we meet at school I knew we were going to be friends. Who would have known that we would become sisters. Lol I have so many favorite memories of you. One of them would have to be the plans we had to be the old ladies/ sisters in the nursing home harassing people lol. Even though that never got to be, and I didn't get more time with you. I am so blessed to have had you in life. God blessed me with an amazing, strong, funny, and wonder person. Who till the end fought. Thank you for all the funny, tearful, serious, and amazing memories and talks we had. I promise I will always remember you and hold in my heart my bestie/ sister. I am going to miss out talks. Like the last talk we had when I need to talk to you. I will look to the sky and find the brightness star and talk to you. Love you and miss you my friend.

“ Mija, I will miss you and our weekly talks that sometimes ran for hours. Usually our talks were about our Heavenly Father and trying to live the right way. We are not only connected by blood but spiritually. I pray that you are no longer in pain and have been reunited with your mom and our grandma. I am grateful that we were able to spend sometime together in the last few months. I will cherish those memories always. Until we meet again...I love you.

“ Annette was so sweet and kind. I'm going to miss her and miss her texts where she called me beautiful. I will miss responding to her with calling her gorgeous. She taught me to have patience when cooking certain things. One of my favorite times was when she taught me to make one of my favorite desserts that she made. I totally messed it up and it didn't come out right. All she did was laugh...not at me but because I was so angry I messed it up. But her laugh then made me laugh. Such good times were had. I pray that you knew how much you were loved and are no longer in pain. Til we see each other again Gorgeous! ❤️🙏

“ Annette was one of the sweetest kindest persons that I knew. She, Nora and I had so many laughs together. Nora and I would tell Annette stories of when we were young and all the crazy kid stuff we did. Annette would giggle and tell us we were crazy. We would go for walks to the restaurant around the block for tacos and Annette and Nora would tell me about their bus rides. She was such a precious daughter to her mother. They were best friends. Two gentle souls and funny. We loved to laugh together. I am so glad that she found love and was happy. I love you Mija, give your mom a hug and a kiss for me. I love you so much. I wanted to bring you home, but you wouldn't leave Texas. In a blink of an eye my sweetie. Love you, Mimie
