

Aurelio S. Gutierrez

February 17, 1926 - February 14, 2006

GutierrezMr. AURELIO “WELLO” GUTIERREZ entered into eternal rest on February 14, 2006. He was born in Saspanco, TX on February 17, 1926, where he grew up hunting and fishing on his beloved grandfather’s farm whom he referred to as “Papa Grande” He was always telling stories of the things he learned from his grandfather about the land, farming, and tending to his cattle. He served in the US Navy during WWII on the Battleship USS Massachusetts of which he was very proud and telling us that they fired “the first sixteen-inch shell to open the European offensive and firing the last big naval bullet in the Pacific Campaign”. He traveled to Casa Blanca, the Philippines, during the war, but what he loved best was being on his tractor plowing his fields or tending to his beloved roosters. He was considered a legend with his game cocks all over Mexico traveling all over and going to places he’d been to during the war and then with his roosters to Guam, the Philippines, and his beloved Mexico. The sun will never set on his roosters. He was a loving husband, father and grandfather. He was preceded in death by his wife Sulema, parents Juan and Lupe Amalia Gutierrez, brothers Johnny “Tiger” and Elisandro Gutierrez. He is survived by his wife, Patricia Gutierrez and his children, Yvonne Reyes Mike, Yvette Gonzales Albert, Jannette Barrientez Trinidad, Aurelio Gutierrez Judy, Pierre John Gutierrez Ramona, Janie Gutierrez Zavala Alfred, Ralph Gutierrez Nancy, Patricia Gutierrez, Ann Elizabeth Gutierrez, Fabian Gutierrez, Douglas Gutierrez, Steve Gutierrez, Linda Gutierrez; twelve grandchildren; five great-grandchildren; brothers,

Raymond Gutierrez Gloria, Alfred Gutierrez Lucy; and numerous nieces, nephews and cousins. Rezo Para Un Gallero
Abra las puertas Señor, de su jacal celestial Abra las puertas Señor, que un gallero quiere entrar. Vuela vuela su giro y ya no esta atado a su vida mortal. Acuérdesese Señor, cuando sus deudas ya contó- Acuérdesese Señor, de las peleas ganadas, Y no de las que perdió. Sáquelo de la huilila Señor . deje a su gallo cantar, Que llame a la mañana, Y a sus angeles despertar. Trátelo con tenura, asi como lo prometió, El tiempo y las peleas ya lo silenció. Aqui en este mundo mi giro no da calor, Pero todos quienes lo quicimos. Sentimos la puñalada de su amor. Abra las puertas Señor, un gallero le está tocando. Ha recorrido por todo el mundo~Las Filipinas, Estados Unidos y su Mexico querido~ Ahora está descansando. Se llama Wello Señor, "Huelito," por cariño le dicen sus amigos. No hay otro Señor, que carga ese apellido. Abra las puertas Señor, dele nueva vida a su alma espiritual. Con su aliento que despierte, de su pelea fatal. Sople fuerte fuerte Señor, para que su gallo fino comience de nuevo a cantar y aletear. Yvonne C. Reyes ~ hija

“ Sorry for your loss. I met your father through my dad Jesse Basaldua from Buena Vista. Your dad would pick up my dad and go to Denny's resturant. Through their friendship I aquired a trio of Wello hatch which are excellent fowl. God rest his soul.
