

Barbara J. Barnett

April 17, 1929 - December 17, 2019

I began receiving instructions about this day 20+ years ago, after her husband, Jack passed away - “no stranger speaking words over me” and “no announcements in the newspaper”. I have chosen to take the fine distinction between paper and website and make it a chasm today, and will ask forgiveness later. As I’ve called family and friends, it is clear what a huge impact Barbara had in all of our lives and I believe she deserves a little immortalization for it.

The youngest of 5 with a huge age range between them, Bobbie was more of an older sister than aunt to many of her nieces and nephews. She loved and cared for them, sometimes providing a home environment and sisterly advice when needed - and the advice always came with a healthy dose of common sense.

Barbara was an amazing woman and a role model to us all. when we thought she would be lost without Jack, she managed to pull herself together and continued on. Then when we both lost Joseph, her heart broke. She continued on for her grand-daughter and she gave us strength and understanding.

Each of us in our own way, will miss Aunt Bobbie/Barbara and are saddened at our loss. She would be salty and sassy at the fuss made over her, however, she was well worth it!

Barbara - Give our love to the two boys when you see them!

Barbara passed away December 17, 2019 at the age of 90 and leaves behind a huge loving family.
