“ Dearest Bob and Family: Carrie and I were sorry to hear of the death of Barbara Collins, your beloved wife and Mother of your children. I think back on the many memories I have of days of our youth and know that with God's help the pain of her loss will begin to eclipse with the fond memories. Hopefully the four T's - tears, talk, time and toil will begin to give you some peace. I know with your strength in God and the love of Jesus Christ you will find solace.

Please know that you and your family are in our thoughts and prayers.

Love,

Carol Lee and Carrie

“ We met in College Station, we were both new brides. She helped me get my first job there. We had a wonderful time working together. The men at work would bring Shipleys Donuts. We loved that. We played Bridge many nights with our husbands. She would make the most Wonder chocolate chip cookies. After our husbands graduated we each went in different directions. But we always kept up with each other. We each had 2 girls and a boy. We always went to all the A& M reunions. We had a grand time catching up with all we were doing. Barbara had the best laugh. These are just few of a life time memories. I will always remember her.
