“ We didn't have the pleasure of knowing you, but we do have the pleasure of knowing your beautiful daughter, Melissa. We can only assume she is kind and generous because you are the person she learned it from. For that we thank you. May you rest in peace and let perpetual light shine upon you.

“ *My Momma,
Thank you for your unwavering love, faith, and support throughout my life. I would not be the woman I am today without your kindness, guidance, and the incredible heart you shared with everyone around you.
I will forever cherish every moment, every lesson, and every memory we made together. Though you're no longer here beside me, I know you're still watching over me and guiding me each day. I miss you more than words can express and carry your love with me every day. I love you to the sky and the moon, and back!*

“ One of the simple ways my mother-in-law, Gail, showed love was by never ending a conversation without saying, “love you.” Those words were more than a habit—they were a reminder of what mattered most. Each phone conversation or text message affectionately ended with exchanges of “love you” and “love you more”. I cherish the last conversation I had with her in the hospital where we said our special phrase.

Gail, your family, friends, & loved ones will always remember your heart. Thank you for sharing your family with me and allowing me to become one of your daughters. Love you more...
