

Barbara Rae Fellbaum

June 7, 1945 - August 6, 2016

Barbara Fellbaum, age 71, died this past Saturday, August 6, 2016, at her home of 23 years in Eagle Creek Ranch, Floresville, Texas, where she and her husband Lloyd resided.

Barbara Rae Remus was born on June 7, 1945, in Tacoma, Washington, to Arthur and Aurelia Remus. She was the youngest of three children, her being the only daughter. After traveling around the country for about 16 years, she and her Mother settled in Austin, where she attended McCallum High School. There she met the love of her life, Lloyd M. Fellbaum, Jr. They were married on August 2, 1963, in Lake Travis, Texas. After they married, Lloyd joined the Air Force and Barbara was a "military" wife for over 21 years, until his retirement from the Air Force in 1985. As a full time Mother and military wife, she managed to attend college and earn degrees in Accounting and Data Processing from Oscar Rose College in Oklahoma City.

Barbara and Lloyd have two boys military brats, Lloyd III, born May 15, 1964, and Lee, born December 22, 1969. Both young men have amazing families and have given her 4 wonderful grandchildren. All live in the San Antonio area.

Barbara is survived by her husband Lloyd Fellbaum Jr., two sons, Lloyd Fellbaum III, and Lee Fellbaum. She also leaves behind four grandchildren, Shaylee Fellbaum 13, Lawrence Fellbaum 10, Lee Fellbaum Jr. 8, and Lloyd Fellbaum IV 4.

Barbara and Lloyd remained married until the day of her death, a wonderful 53 years.

“ I remember Barbara and her husband LLoyd from my childhood. I was best friends with their oldest son LLoyd. So sad to hear of her passing. She was like a second mother to me growing up and her husband a kinda father figure to me. She was a smart and loving person. World will be a different place without her. My condolences to her husband and her two sons. I still remember her famous holiday recipe she and her husband referred to as Trash. Will have to make a batch in her memory.
