

Barbara Sue Price

July 23, 1929 - December 25, 2015

Barbara Sue Price passed away at the age of 86 on December 25, 2015. She was born in Glendale, California, on July 23, 1929. She was preceded in death by her husband of 64 years, Alfred H. Price, parents Mary Gertrude Sandeffer and Hugh E. Brainard, and her sisters Betty Shepard and Bernie Camp. Her brother Ronald Brainard passed four days later, on December 29, 2015. She is survived by her brother Hugh Brainard, daughter Suzanne P. Treiber, grandson Scott A. Treiber and great grandson Ethan Blake Treiber.

Barb and Al married in 1948. She followed him around the world while he served 23 years in the US Navy. They lived in many places, made many friends and many fond memories while they traveled and lived around the world. Some of her fondest memories were dancing at the embassy parties and entertaining their friends.

In 1961, they put down roots in San Diego, California where they spent the next 30 years. Barb was a stay at home mom and enjoyed gardening, cooking and decorating their home with all of the treasures they found abroad. In 1990, they relocated to San Antonio to be closer to their daughter and their new grandson, Scott.

Barbara was a force of nature. She had the tenacity to overcome whatever was thrown her way. Whether it was moving from post to post in remote places as a devoted military wife or tackling the many health issues that she was dealt with later in her life, she always had the will to survive.

Barbara was a kind and generous woman. Family was important and no matter the situation, she would always help in any way she could.

My mother was my best friend and I will miss her very much. She touched many people during her life and will be remembered for her kindness, her thoughtfulness, and for her generosity to others.
