O QUINN

July 3, 1918 - May 6, 2012

Serve the Lord with gladness... and Betty Jane Miller O'Quinn did. Her love for Jesus Christ was evident to all! Betty's family moved to San Antonio when she was 13 and the first boy she met was Justine O'Quinn whom she married 6 years later and remained so until Justine's death in 2005. They were members of Trinity Baptist where Betty taught 13/14 age girls Sunday School and evening Bible Study for 8 years. She then began teaching a Ladies Bible Class and did so for decades. After retirement from USAA in 1975 Betty also began visiting local hospitals once a week ministering to patients. Betty went with a "witnessing team" from Trinity to Nagasaki, Japan on the 30th anniversary of the atomic bomb attack... "to be a tiny light for Jesus". Dorothy Mae Walden and Betty as her co-chair began "Let's Have A Visit" which was broadcasted once a month on WOAI for 25 years. Astronauts, presidents of companies and San Antonians gave their Testimonies of God's great love for all and salvation through Jesus Christ. Betty had a sweet unsinkable spirit and always sought the good in others. Her smile, her enthusiasm for life and her unflinching faith in the Lord Jesus was contagious and inspiring. She ministered unselfishly to her family, friends and anyone she met. All who knew Betty loved her. Her light continues to shine. Her children rise up and call her Blessed... Pat and wife, Carolyn O'Quinn; Bethanyanne and Richard Wilson; and Brad O'Quinn; her five grandchildren and five great-grandchildren echo the praises to this wonderful lady.
