

Carolyn Quon

May 29, 1931 - August 28, 2019

Carolyn Quon was born Tai You Wong in Buffalo, New York on May 29, 1931. She spent her younger years in China and reentered the United States in 1941. Carolyn was born the fifth of seven children to Wong H. Sun and Lee See. She attended Fox Tech High School and Our Lady of the Lake University where she studied Medical Technology. Carolyn married William Quon on February 12, 1958 in San Antonio, Texas where they started a family and raised their two daughters, Natalie and Wendy. Carolyn was always gracious and generous with her time, helpful in nature, kind and hardworking. She would go to her day job as a Medical Technologist with SmithKline Beecham (now GlaxoSmithKline) and then work in the family business as a cashier in the evenings and weekends. Carolyn retired from her day job after 25 years of service. Her love for arts and crafts and working with her hands were evident in all her projects. She enjoyed needle point, crochet, macramé, string and bead jewelry and painting greenware creating lovely ceramic pieces. Carolyn also loved the music of Yanni, fine jewelry, shopping for bargains and shoes. After her grandchildren Kylyn and Ethan were born, she would faithfully drive to Austin on Sunday after church and help take care of them during the week returning to San Antonio on Friday afternoon. Carolyn passed away peacefully on August 28, 2019 in Austin, Texas with her children and loved ones surrounding her. Carolyn is preceded in death by her husband, William Quon and older sisters Hong Shang Tom and Stella Chan. She is survived by her daughters Natalie Moy (Jack), Wendy Quon and grandchildren Kylyn Cha and Ethan Cha. Carolyn is survived by her older sisters Rose Kee and Anna Ong, brother Terry Wong (Marie) and younger sister Linda Chin (Jim) with numerous loving nieces, nephews and cousins.

“ The Roscoe Lee family sends our deepest sympathy to Carolyn's family for their great loss. Carolyn was a close family friend for many years. We greatly appreciated the loving friendship that Carolyn gave our mother, especially during our mother's final years.

We will miss Carolyn's friendship and compassion. She will always have a place in our hearts.
