“ I knew her as Aunt “Cata” all my life because she was my father’s aunt (Ness, son of her sister Barbara). While we lived in Wisconsin and Aunt Cata lived in Texas, I mostly heard about her through my grandparents and father and the occasional visits when I was very young. It wasn’t until adulthood when I got to know more about her and see her in person. It felt as though no time had passed since childhood, it was because she was a constant in my dad’s life. If I knew one thing, it was that she was Dad’s favorite and he was hers (he would never say that on his own though). She cared for and protected my dad from the very beginning and he cared for and protected her...’til the end. My grandmother would be happy to know that “Necho” (Cata’s nickname for him) was physically with her until the end of her life here with us. My Mom, Phylis, also loved Cata and appreciated her sense of humor and easy-going attitude. She too was lovingly with Cata at the end. We all loved her and admired her. If she’s meeting her husband and siblings now they must all be welcoming the life of the party (no doubt with some country music)! We love you Cata. Thank you for being so loving to Dad and our family.
