

Catherine Veronica Smith

September 16, 1961 - December 12, 2023

Catherine Veronica Curran Smith passed away peacefully on December 12, 2023, in San Antonio, Texas. Catherine was born on September 16, 1961, in the town of Cirencester, England, to Charles Curran and Sheila Farrell Curran.

Catherine is preceded in death by her father, her sister Maureen O'Brien, and her nephew Matt Turpin. Catherine is survived by her mother, her daughters Roya Darling (Andrew Chomer) and Lisa Darling, her sisters Patricia Turpin and Helen Curran, her brother John Curran, her grandson Theodore Chomer, her nieces and nephews: Sarah O'Brien, Kate Rose, Danny O'Brien, and Dan Turpin, and her great nieces and nephews: Ender Natario, Desmond and Bernadette Rose and Artemis and Camilla O'Brien.

Catherine recently celebrated 30 years at Wells Fargo where she left a profound and lasting impact on all who worked with her and beside her. Catherine's indomitable spirit, like her laughter, was infectious, and her essence will forever echo in the hearts of those she touched.

A Memorial Service in San Antonio will be announced at a later date, providing an opportunity for friends and family to come together, share memories, and pay heartfelt tributes to Catherine's life.

“Cathy was one of my direct reports (2016-2020) before I moved to another department, but she left an everlasting impression on me. Her passion was unique and contagious, such an infectious laugh, too. She was a HUGE advocate for all of her employees. She was tough but kind. An intelligent woman; steadfast and strong. I am sure she is having a ball, drink in hand, making everyone laugh as she did so many times here on Earth. She is missed. Rest in peace, Lady Catherine ;)

“No words can ever express the levity of her loss has left. She imparted so many life lessons and memories. Something I will always remember about Cathy is her laugh and smile. She always had a way of looking at things from a new perspective and having us all in stitches. She made me excited to come to work and was one of the best bosses. She will always be remembered for her stories of inspiration, words of encouragement and wisdom. Her legacy will forever be as a wonderful mentor, colleague, advocate, leader and friend.

“Aunty Cathy was a light in every room I saw her in. A bonafide example of the wit and charm the Curran/Farrell branch was known for. Quick to defuse tension with a laugh, a quip, a faux posh accent. She imparted upon me pride in our history, and we shared a desire to always do our part to make the room laugh. Your spirit and levity will be sorely missed. Till we meet again.
