“ I had the pleasure of getting to know Catrina earlier this year. We met in early February when she came out to visit school. She enrolled in a Christian Studies degree program at the University I counsel at. She was always looking to get better at life and wanted to be able to inspire and guide her friends and family to know Christ. She had a great laugh and a very nice personality. She will be sorely missed. My condolences.

“ I am so very sorry for your loss.

I never met Catrina in person, but we shared a relationship through Facebook. She even called me Granni B just like my grandchildren do, and did so, because she and I shared a love for Josh, her son, whom I have "adopted" as one of my own. We were going to meet "some day", but that never happened. I will always regret not meeting her face to face and getting to tell her what a precious son she raised. Her faith and love for our Savior was something to be admired. I feel like when Jesus came to get her last Monday, she went joyfully with Him to her reward. Now, she can learn about the Master from the Master himself as she sits at His feet. She is definitely doing good now. The ones of us who are left to grieve need to take her example as a child of God and live for Him. He will comfort us now in this time of sorrow and will reward us when it comes time for us to be with Him. We will see her again!

God bless each family member and friend. May He give you comfort and peace.

“ I remember when I was going through a very tough time in my life which lead to me cutting. Catrina was there for me through it all. One time I was bleeding so much in the middle of the night, she was the one who woke up and wrapped my arm for me. She told me everything was going to be alright and let me fall asleep in her bed. I would always bring myself down and she would point out all the good things about me. She took me to church and always gave me these pep talks that I will never forget. Catrina wasn't in my life for very long but for the time that she was, she brought so much joy and positivity. She was such an amazing person. I called her my second mom because she treated me like I was her daughter when in reality I was just a friend of Felicia's. I will never forget her ❤️

“ I met Cat when we moved in next door to her at Charles Andrews apartments, she was the 1st to greet us and from then on we were inseparable, we shared bbqs together, dinners, and at night we would sit outside no matter how cold drink our wine and just talk and laugh, lots of laughs. She was always smiling even when she was in pain. We were even on the resident council together. She was my sister, my best friend and partner in crime, we called ourselves Thelma and Luis. At her wedding I did her makeup and we even cried together because she was so happy. She looked so amazing on her wedding day. The last conversation we had was about food and what she wanted Steve to try. I will always have a place in my heart for her she will live in my memories and one day we will meet again. I will Love you always Catrina.
