

Charlene Johnson Harrison

February 5, 1924 - October 31, 2014

Born Charlene Johnson, daughter to James and Willie Mae Johnson. She had 4 sisters and is survived by her younger brother Richard Johnson.

She married Robert Harrison and together they raised two sons, Mike and Robert, and a daughter, Kathy.

After her husband's death she continued to live in the house they had called home for over sixty years until her own passing.

Known and loved by many, her family circle grew over her lifetime to eventually include great-great grandchildren.

She endeared herself to so many through her lifelong work of caring for other people. Over her lifetime she worked as a waitress, a healthcare provider, as a sitter, and as a nanny.

To her grandchildren and the children she helped to raise, she was known as Mamaw and Nini. Friends knew her as Charlie.

She loved those she cared for, defended them from accusations any and all accusations against Mamaw's or Nini's kids were false, worried about and prayed for them, rejoiced with their successes and maintained lifelong relationships with them.

She lived life and loved to the fullest. She will be missed by all who knew and loved her.

"When your heart is covered with the snows of pessimism and the ice of cynicism, then and only then you have you grown old."

General Douglas MacArthur
