“ Charlie was a good friend and neighbor. Always willing to help if needed.
We shared a lot of good times. He had a great sense of humor and always had a funny joke to tell us. He will be missed.

“ I first met Charlie in 1964 while selling ads for the school newspaper. He was the manager at Winn's in Eastwood Village. Later I worked with him at Winn's corporate office where he served as a buyer.
He always had a smile and a kind word for everyone.
