

Charles Ray McDonald

October 7, 1950 - May 3, 2013

Charles Ray McDonald's Earthly adventure came to an end on May 3, 2013 at the age of 62. He was welcomed into his Eternal home by his Father - Charlie, his Son - Charles, and his Grandson- Tyler who had preceded him. Charles was born on October 7, 1950 to Charlie and Dorothy McDonald and from a young age displayed the adventuresome and loving spirit that made him so special. It was that adventuresome spirit that led Charles to blue water fishing, chasing marlin throughout the Gulf and Caribbean. His love for fishing was as deep as the waters he sailed, but paled in comparison to his love for his family. Charles met the love of his life, Paula in the fall of 1970 and the two of them wed on September 16, 1971. Charles and Paula were blessed with two children, 41 years of marriage, and a lifetime of wonderful memories. He was always a loving and supporting Son, Husband, Father, and friend-- and will be missed immensely. Charles' enterprising and providing nature led him to follow in his Father's footsteps, becoming an entrepreneur. His business ventures began with him working alongside his Dad at McDonald Auto Brokers, and Charles soon ventured out on his own with Guarantee Auto Parts and eventually Ozone Air.

Charles is survived by his wife – Paula McDonald, son – Chris and wife Amy McDonald, daughter- Crystal and husband Shawn Griffin, daughter - Lisa McDonald, mother- Dorothy McDonald, brother -Stanley and wife Nancy McDonald, sister - Judy and husband Rusty Blalack and numerous grandchildren, nieces, and nephews.
