Chris grew up in Beeville where he attended Fadden-McKeown-Chambliss Elementary and was always heavily involved in youth sports. While attending A.C. Jones High he participated in various sports. He graduated high school from Alice High in Alice, Texas in 1989. He spent most of his adult life in San Antonio managing foot wear stores. Among his hobbies he enjoyed playing basketball, shooting a mean game of pool and playing darts at local spots in the River City. He enjoyed a good drive, what his son Cameron called "a cruise" around the city. His passion was watching professional sports, his go to teams being the San Francisco 49ers, the Los Angeles Lakers and the New York Yankees. Chris loved his three dogs, Yeager, Zues, and Maddie.

Chris was what you would call one of the nice guys. He was the one you could count on to be cool, calm, and collected. He had a quiet, reserved soul who spoke softly and was never quick to anger. He was warm hearted, giving, patient, and was a great father and husband who absolutely loved kids. This world is a little less brighter without his presence.

“ Chris was my partner at Sunline. We worked side by side many years. Everyone in this building love him because of his sense of humor. This man had a one line joke for everthing I said. We use get tacos almost every morning, his specialty was making up diffrent kind of combos. His favorite was Pork shop and beans. What stood out about him was Family was always first, the job last.
