“ I only met Cora about 2 years ago when I started to visit her occasionally after hearing that she might appreciate visitors from a church announcement. I was a new member to the Church of God and thought visiting with her could be mutually beneficial. She turned out to be a very sweet lady, and I enjoyed our quiet visits together. I could only imagine what a fun loving woman she must have been when she was younger. My favorite memory was one day when I got there, I found her in her wheel chair near the nurses station. We visited for a little while and then much to my surprise she said, "Take me out of here." I didn't quite know what to say, but replied, "Where would we go?" She said, "I don't know, but we would have fun!" I laughed and said, "Yes we would, until they came and arrested me for kidnapping you". Well, we shared a little laugh as I wheeled her down to the cafeteria for lunch. Yes, I'm sure we would have had fun. And I look forward to the resurrection where we can enjoy that fun in the Kingdom of God!

I loved talking with Cora. When she first met my husband, Freeman Williams, I was wanting him to hurry up and help me unload groceries, Cora Belle, stopped me and took my hands in hers and said, " now Lisa, not everything in this world must hurry as much as you do. I don't think Freeman likes to hurry and not sure he will ever get him to. Slow down Lisa, take time to see all the beauty in this world, that the good Lord has given us. Those groceries will get taken in when they get taken in. Breathe child, breathe." You know she was right. They got taken, by me, and Freeman still walks slowly. She was a lovely wise woman and she will be missed.

Lisa Williams, sister to Ann Jordan, sister in law to Richard Jordan, aunt to all of their amazing children (Michael and Roe, Bryan and Michael, Brian, and Rachel and Mitchell) You were deeply loved by this side of your family.

I missed knowing Cora as well as I should have. My father Cleo Gibbs loved her and was encouraged by her for many years. On my facebook I gave a word of thanks, given for the people in our lives that we did not know were praying for us a we journey in this life. All our older relatives that that spent countless moments in thoughts and prayer for the younger people they know, love and barely see. Every time I was with her I felt her Love, her kinship, Family. There have been times when she was there, out of no where, during times of confusion and sorrow, preparing us for very difficult choices. This I know, Cora prayed for us, for me and God answered her prayers. Thank You, Cora Belle. I too, will continue to pray for the young people in our family. May God Bless and Keep you all in His Loving arms.
