“ I met Cristina through Leslie and her sister Yvette when we worked at the Westin. Yvette and Cristina's relationship reminded me very much of mine and my own sister's. When I met her I loved how she made me feel as though I had known her forever. She had such a genuine, kind heart. Even though we hung out only a few times she added me on Facebook and commented on my kid's pictures with such love and even reached out to me when I moved to a new city to give advice on daycares. I thought it was such a sweet gesture and just admired her for how friendly she was even when she didn't have to be. When I found out about Neal I was so heartbroken for her and reached out. She was so strong. Seeing that she passed hit me and I can't get her off my mind. This is a woman that I met a few times. Spoke to a few times. She had a huge impact on me. Her smile radiated confidence and beauty. I send my deepest condolences to her family. Yvette, Leslie, I am so sorry. Big hugs. She is an angel that touched many hearts.

“ One of the many benefits of being close in age with a sibling is you become close with their friends. Christy's sister Yvette has been by bestfriend for many years now and we've been fortunate enough to have Christy in our lives throughout. One of my fondest memories would be a few years ago a friend had a birthday at howl at the moon and somehow I lost everybody in the bar and I ended up looking outside. I saw Christy sitting on the patio and she had just ordered a big plate of nachos so naturally I ended up there with her sharing her plate, laughing and making fun of our friends inside. I was a special moment I got to share with just her until our friends found us. I will always cherish that moment and the many moments of awkwardness we shared watching Yvette get in trouble by their mom. Ha ha. We love you Christy, truly a selfless person.

Met Cristina when my sister worked for family service. A beautiful woman, the most beautiful smile. She will be missed, but she will be shining up in heaven with that smile. I was one of the lucky ones to have met her. We love you and rest in peace our beautiful Cristina.
