“ *Robin and Justin, I am so sorry for the loss of Danny. He was such a fabulous guy who could always make you laugh and always wanted to take care of others. I have so many amazing memories of Danny and our time together at BBW. I remember him helping me prepare for my very first interview to become a DM. He taught me how to love spicy Bloody Mary's as much convincing to try it. After one was hooked. I will treasure all of the amazing memories I have of him and many include you both as well. He was a family man and you guys were the most important part of his life. I will continue to pray for you guys during this most difficult time. Much love,

“ If I could write a story it would be the greatest ever told, Of a kind and loving husband who had a heart of gold. I could write a million pages but there’s one thing I would say, just how much I love and miss you so every much every single day. You were a firm foundation through all the storms of life, a sturdy hands to hold onto in times of stress and strife. A true friend I could turn to in times of good and bad, one of life’s greatest blessings the best husband I could have had. I wish you were still here but I know God needed you more than us so Danny you tell God to save a place for me so when it is time for us to be reunited.

Robin: Ray and I are at a loss for words. We had been so looking forward to making many more fun and full of laughter memories. Know that Danny touched our hearts in a very special way. May the perpetual light shine upon him and may he rest in peace in paradise. May all the good memories help you, your son and family find peace and comfort during the difficult times ahead.

“ Danny, you weren't just the life of the party, you were the party. Time and time again you instigated a dinner for all the staff at Salem Lutheran School; hosting the Socorro Lane Halloween party; a crawfish boil for friends and strangers; wedding receptions for friends and friends kids; meals after funerals; and so many more. You made sure everyone had plenty to eat and drink, and made sure everyone had a great time. You, Robin and Justin were the best neighbors ever and the neighborhood hasn't been the same since you all moved. You were like a brother to me and I will miss your sage advice and your ready ear. Your huge heart will be missed by everyone who knew you. Until we meet again . . .
