

Debra D. Cote

August 23, 1957 - May 25, 2024

Debra Cote was born on August 23, 1957, in San Antonio, Texas. She passed away on May 25, 2024, surrounded by her husband and children; she fought a long battle with cancer and other health issues. Debra graduated from McCollum High School and went to several business schools. She was a strong, independent, loving, joyful person. She loved all her children dearly and loved her grandchildren and great grandchildren even more. She was a person you would never forget even after one encounter with her. She could brighten a room with just her smile and laugh. She loved to dance, and at times she would sing karaoke if the drinks were flowing good. She never turned down a Fireball shot. She enjoyed life and overcame whatever was thrown at her. She enjoyed road trips with her husband Tony and loved going to the coast to fish as well. She would never miss any of her grandkid's activities whether it was a game or a play. She would do anything for anyone if you just asked. And never would she turn down good chisme. She will be missed immensely!

She is preceded in death by her first-born son, Daniel J. Martinez, mother Tomasa A. Villarreal, and father Eugene S. Villarreal. Survivors include her beloved husband of 34 years, Anthony P. “ We shared many happy moments across the back yard fence. Debbie loved one of our dogs and Jake loved her and watched out for her. Our block will be a little darker without her smile. We will miss you, Deb. You weren't our next door neighbor near long enough. R I P, my friend. My deepest, heartfelt condolences to Tony and the family. We will be here for you.
