

Della Marie Ybarra

January 29, 1930 - January 26, 2010

Della Marie Ybarra passed away at the age of 79 on January 26, 2010. She was a loving wife, mother, and a wonderful grandmother. She was survived by her husband, Luis Ybarra, and five daughters; Rachel Dominguez son-in-law, Ismael Dominguez, Rose DeHoyos, Dell Ybarra, Linda Ybarra, Julie Ybarra, and her son; Luis John Ybarra, as well as her grandchildren, and great-grandchildren. She was born in Floresville, Texas on January 29, 1930, and shortly thereafter moved to San Antonio, Texas. She also resided in Los Angeles, California where she made many life-long friendships. We will always remember her when roses are in bloom, since she was a master at making things grow in her garden, we will try to emulate all that she could do—in remembrance of her beauty and our love for her will forever glow. Her touch, her lips, and her laughter will always be a bitter sweet memory. We would like to extend a special thank you to Dr. Jose E. Salinas for his many years of dedication and devotion to assure that Della's well-being was maintained and extended beyond a normal doctor-patient relationship; she loved and respected him until her final days on earth. We thank God for every day we had her, and pray that he will guide her to a better place; until we meet with her again.

“ Dear Mom,

It has been six months since you have left us...and when the morning sun breaks through the leaves on the trees...not a day goes by without me thinking of you.

P.S. I will always love you!

“ To My Beloved Grandma

Words can not express my love nor how much I will miss you. I can say my heart is empty and sad. Memories of you will live forever in me. Which I will share and pass on to my nieces and nephew. But the memory that stands out
