Diana Calderon, age 82, of San Antonio passed away on March 2nd 2019. Diana was born on February 1st 1937 in San Antonio to the late Julius and Blanch Guerra. There, she met the love of her life, Hector Calderon. “ In 1988, my Uncle Manuel and Aunt Diana living in Miami heard my car broke down, also, shared between us was the passing their son Richard and of my brother Victor, both very young Calderon's. We talked about family and pasts as Aunt Diana came to San Antonio and flew with me back to Miami where after being taken to dinner and meeting my cousins, Diana and my Uncle Manuel made a gift to me of Richard's car. Most recently this year, I visited them at their house in San Antonio. As my uncle shared memories about places and events in their life, Aunt Diana's hand held it's place on my Uncle's shoulder, ever caressing and patting it lovingly as my Uncle spoke....Deepest sympathies, Rene L. Calderon
