

Diana Lea Rogers

August 7, 1950 - September 18, 2015

Diana Lea Rogers, age 65 of San Antonio, Texas, passed away from this life and to her heavenly home on Friday, September 18, 2015, and she is now jumping and leaping and praising God. She is now full of peace and joy.

Diana was born in Poteet, Texas, on August 7, 1950. She is preceded in death by her father Martin F. Rogers, Jr. and her brother Martin F, Rogers, III. She is survived by her son Todd Deaver and wife, Renee, of Floresville, Texas, and her daughter Marisa of San Antonio, Texas; her mother Phoebe Jo Rogers of San Antonio; her sister Carla Miller and husband Roland of San Antonio; and her sister-in-law Carol Rogers of Kingsville, Texas.

Her grandchildren include Coral Jones, Phoebe Deaver, Sierra Deaver, Brandon Deaver and Jade Deaver of Floresville, Texas. She had a plethora of nieces and nephews and other family members.

Diana worked in the early years of her life and her last employment was as the Office Manager of the Fina Oil Company office in Corpus Christi. One of her favorite hobbies was making stained glass and she made beautiful, creative pieces that she always gave away to family members and friends.

Diana had a big heart and enjoyed helping other people. She would give you the coat off her back and she had a special place in her heart for those who were less fortunate. It was in the spirit of her generosity that she became a registered organ donor through the Department of Public Safety. On the day of her death, the family was contacted and gave approval to donate her corneas to two 2 separate individuals who had immediate need to save their eyesight. In addition, the family also approved the donation of her tissue and bones to help with cancer patients.

Diana will be remembered as the person who lit up the room, who was the life of the party and who loved to make people laugh. She enjoyed having her nails done and wearing large rings, and she liked jazz music the best.
