“Hi! I am cousin Jeanne Hester. I remember how much I admired Diane when I was young. I remember her as a volunteer in the hospital as a teenager. I wanted to be like her when I got her age. I remember how beautiful she was. Even though, through the years, we all have grown apart, I still admire and respect who she was and what she accomplished. God bless each of you, children, grandchildren, and siblings, with peace and comfort in this time. Love from us out here, (Fred Gray family).

“So many memories through the years with our shopping trips and lunches. The sometime frustrations of trying to work out a new soap recipe or trying a new jewelry idea—with you mostly being the teacher. And through it all the laughs (and occasional tears). I miss you greatly my dearest friend. Lyn

So much I admire and respect my favorite sister for. Number one would be her commitment to family and many people were included in her definition of family.
