“ Mingo was a very compassionate, gentle, calm, cool, collective man without a mean streak in him. Josie & Mingo were my second parents on the street we lived on. He always sat on his front porch with a baseball cap enjoying the day. In numerous occasion he repaired my Mickey Mouse and Snoopy watch. He would always smile and wave to me to come over to chat with him. Occasionally, he would meet me at the end of the side walk to ask me how everything was going and how was I doing in college. He always reminded me in his soft spoken voice, "Remember Joanna life is what you make of it and only you have full control of it." I always walked away at the end of our conversations, feeling he care about my well being as if I was one of his own. Our last conversation he asked me what time the Cowboys played and mention to me my dog Scooby was a beautiful dog. Mingo your now in heaven with Josie and my Dad, with all my love and respect may you forever Rest in Peace. I will miss you sitting on the front porch and . thank you for all your words of wisdom.
