“ *Dear Donnie,
You would have loved the family gathering today in your honor. The family cooked all of your favorites, and because they were prepared with love and the fondest of memories, I'm pretty sure they were the best batches ever. You've left a legacy of love and strength! Thank you for all the wonderful memories and for always being real and genuine. You have influenced all of us more than you ever realized. Much love and respect!*

“ Uncle Donnie,
Thank you for all the memories, and great times we had together.
Far too many to mention here.
Thank for taking me with you to the coast fishing and showing me how it is done all those years ago.
Thank you for sharing with me your love of Native American artifacts and your love of the outdoors. I loved all the time we spent together. Most recently, around the fire at the hunting lease. All of us always loved being with you so much. Such a huge influence on my life.
Love
Randy Mangold

“ I send my heartfelt condolences to the Mangold Family. It has been my privilege to serve as Financial Advisor to the Mangolds for a number of years. Mr. Mangold was a patriot and a valued client, and I respected his investment opinions greatly. Don was keenly interested in the financial markets and asked intelligent and probing questions. One day, when the market had been selling off sharply for six consecutive trading sessions, I was speaking with Don and was frankly unsure of how to direct him and Sandy. So Don said, "I'm just going to flip a coin." So I hung on the phone and waited for the outcome of The Flip. Don said, "Heads we stay in, Tails we sell!" It came up Heads. The die was cast. The next day, the market turned and rallied to new highs. And to this day, I credit Don with calling the market bottom!
