“ So many years ago, my cousin Dorothy Ann was the coolest gal I knew. Our mothers (Aunt Dorothy Dixon Crum and Mary Kathlyne Dixon Lott) were sisters, and my father (Lynwood Lott) was a career Army officer. My dad had just completed a three-year assignment in Germany and our family returned to the States when I was fifteen years old. We were visiting our San Antonio relatives and I spent several nights with Dorothy Ann, five years older than I. She drove a gorgeous Chevrolet convertible, and one starry evening she took me on a drive through the city with the car's top down. Her right arm resting on the back of the front seat, steering with her left hand on the steering wheel's knob...just cruising. Yes, she was so very cool. I was in awe.
