

Dorothy Adelle Manby

October 23, 1925 - January 17, 2013

Dorothy Adelle Manby, "Dottie" age 87, went to be with the Lord on Thursday, January 17, 2013. She was born on October 23, 1925 in Waco, Texas to Robert and Adelle Johnson. She was a loving wife, mother, and doting grandmother who will be dearly missed. She graduated from high school in Memphis, Tennessee and then attended secretarial school. She met her future husband of 63 years, William "Bill" Harville Manby while attending Union Avenue Church of Christ, where Bill served as an usher and saved her a special seat each Sunday. They married at The Post Chapel at Turner Field, Ft. Stewart, Georgia on November 4, 1944. Dottie enjoyed being a military wife and traveling around the world before settling in San Antonio, Texas after Bill's retirement in 1963. Dottie loved to play bridge every week with her dear friends, served many years with the PTA, as a den mother, and Sunday School teacher at MacArthur Park Church of Christ. She was also a skilled seamstress and easily turned "customers" into life long friends, sewing seams of love with every stitch. She was preceded in death by her parents, her husband, Bill, and her son, Steven W. Manby. She is survived by her son, Jack D. Manby, daughter and son-in-law, Patricia M. and Christian E. Oviatt, and granddaughters, April and Elizabeth Oviatt.
