

Dwayne Van Hoose

July 4, 1955 - October 12, 2006

This quiet, gentle, loving man passed on Thursday, October 12, 2006 after a courageous battle with cancer. Dwayne was greatly loved by his family and friends and tremendously respected by his colleagues and co-workers. Dwayne was the fourth of six children born to Irvin Van Hoose Jr. and Lela Kelso, on July 4, 1955 in Kirksville, MO. Dwayne was an aircraft mechanic in the U.S. Navy and found his home in San Antonio after his tour. He began by working for Fairchild, then LSI at Randolph AFB, and finally with Sino-Swearingen working on the SJ30-2 for the last few years. His varied interest included gardening, hunting, fishing, Dart tournaments, but most of all, his abiding love of family and friends. Dwayne endeared himself to others through his kindness, his easy way of teaching, and his soft-spoken humor. Those who loved him and held him close will miss Dwayne's special genius and continuous search for knowledge. Dwayne was a member of the Christian Church in Kirksville and attended the Windcrest United Methodist Church. He earned an Associate of Applied Science Degree from St. Philips College. His mother Lela Van Hoose preceded him in death. Dwayne is survived by his wife, Jeri Wilcoxon Van Hoose of San Antonio, TX; his father Irvin Van Hoose; sister, Irvinetta Pettit both of Kirksville, MO.; brother, Bruce Van Hoose of San Antonio, TX.; brother, Leland Paul Van Hoose and wife Debbie also of Kirksville, MO.; brother, Dale Van Hoose of Las Vegas, NV.; daughter, Carrie Djordjevic and husband Milan of San Antonio, TX.; step-son, Bryan Haston and wife Angie; granddaughters, Madison and Makenzie Haston of Wimberly,

TX. along with his in-laws, and numerous nephews, nieces and cousins.
