Age 95, surrounded by his loving family in San Antonio, Texas

He was married to Anita Salinas and together they raised seven children.

Esidro found his strength, love and joy in Jesus Christ and was grateful to God for every blessing and accomplishment throughout his life. He was a devoted father who instilled in his family a strong work ethic and the importance of staying united.

Esidro had many interests. He had a Hudson car and eventually joined a Hudson Car Club, which allowed him and his family to travel to different states, meeting other enthusiasts and sharing his experiences of rebuilding his car. He had a passion for music, and played the Bajo Sexto(guitar). In his younger years, he was part of a Conjunto(band) that performed around San Antonio. He even wrote and recorded a song as a tribute to his mother, Maria Salinas.

Esidro and his son, Daniel Salinas, owned a gas station in Alamo Heights and later opened a chrome plating shop in San Antonio.He enjoyed telling stories from his past and listening to others.

We will remember the times when we would laugh at something Esidro or someone else would say and he would tell us "That's Not Funny"
