“ George was a close friend of my parents, John and Cynthia Dorgan. As I grew into an adult he and his wife Billie became friends of mine too. Since he was at all family events he was considered family. George had a unique personality and once you knew where his heart was you came to appreciate and actually enjoy his unique style. He represents lots of fun memories and I feel fortunate to have known him. Rest In Peace, George. You were very loved, brought joy to many and will be missed.
