Throughout her diverse career, Carole held various positions, but she found her true calling during the last decade of her life as a Life Skills Teacher with South San ISD. She devoted herself to her students, finding joy in their accomplishments and milestones. Her adventurous and challenging days were made possible by the collaborative and supportive environment of her co-workers, especially her Para-professionals and Principal.

She is survived by her loving children: Jennifer Alejandro (Krisch) and spouse Dylan, along with their daughters Kaitlyn and Emily of Uvalde, TX; Brian Krisch of San Antonio, TX; Tommy Krisch and spouse Kelly, with their daughter Macy of Lytle, TX; Shannon Nelson (Daubenmire) and spouse Rex of Panama City Beach, FL; and grand-daughter Becca Lynn Daubenmire, along with her two children of Panama City Beach, FL.; James R. “ My Mom, she was the center of our world. She didn't necessarily like to travel, but never said no to an adventure. She said yes, because she loved us so much. I will always feel blessed that I had her as my Mom and Nano to her grand daughters. You will be deeply missed Mom.
