Courtnie Croley, husband Jon and their children Troy, Isabella, and Savannah

A true embodiment of hard work and dedication, Harry opened H Karp Co. in 1974 and ran it for over 50 years, becoming a cornerstone of the construction community. His integrity and service made him a trusted name for generations of clients.

Outside of work, Harry was an avid hunter, bowler, and golfer. He spent countless weekends in the woods, perfecting his skills and finding peace in nature. His hunting trips were filled with stories he brought back; often funnier and more colorful than the last. He also found joy in the bowling lanes, where he competed in numerous leagues and formed lasting friendships. Whether it was a strike or a gutter ball, Harry never missed a chance to crack a joke and bring some levity to the competition. He also enjoyed golf, always looking for his next hole in one on the course or a good round with his golfing buddies. Harry's family and friends knew him as a guy who always had a one-liner ready, no matter the situation.

Above all, Harry was a family man. A loving husband of 63 years to Kathy and a devoted father to Bryan and Holly. He was also a doting grandfather to his grandchildren and great-grandchildren, whose laughter was his greatest joy. His family was the center of his world. He instilled in them the same values of hard work, humor, and kindness that defined his life.

Rest in peace, Harry. You'll always have us laughing, and your legacy of love and hard work will never be forgotten.

“ What I'll remember most about my Uncle Harry is his loyalty, his biting wit, his work ethic, and how his presence filled the room with a strength that made you feel unquestionably secure. Growing up I always knew that when he was around, I was safe and cared for. He looked after his people and I feel very fortunate to have been in his orbit. I will always cherish the memories of the wonderful and fun times I was lucky enough to be on the receiving end of his unique uncle-ly spark. Thank you and I love you, Uncle Harry.
