“ I worked with James for over 10 Years at Lockheed Martin. He was one of our program experts and we relied on him for his knowledge, work ethic, and training ability. He was always working hard, making jokes, and dedicated to the mission of training sailors in the U.S. Navy. I will miss having James on our team. I'm so sorry for your loss and want you to know how important he was to us and to the defense of our nation.
