

Janessa Consenz

April 18, 1982 - January 16, 2021

Janessa Consenz was the kind of person you only met once. She was made of star stuff, had a soul that glimmered like a fire jelly opal and shone through everything she did. She was passionate, charismatic, and as eloquent as any pirate could be. She loved making noise — laughing, singing, bird-calling, and speaking from her heart which she wore around her neck like a prized jewel. She was known for her poetry, her big yellow van, Good Time Goldie, her work at our family business, Element Tattoo, her rock collection, and her prized succulent garden. She was truly one of the last of the good ones. Every step left unstomped, every dirty joke left uncracked, every mariachi band left unaccompanied, every confrontation left unaddressed, every bipod left uncollected in every alluvial field will be a testament to her, the space she inhabited, and the heart she brought into it. In this new emptiness we sit, her family, her friends, and those who never got the chance to love her. She will be remembered for her hard working spirit, her love for her family both chosen and blood, and her contributions to the lives of everyone she touched.

Janessa is survived by her husband, Jedidia Reid, her son, Demos Bagby, her daughters Aravis Bagby and Eden Reid, and her mother, Olga Munroe.

“ Janessa... A passionate, beautiful soul... gone too soon. Janessa was the first to reach out to my daughter, Tina... the new girl in high school, and the two were inseparable as they took on the challenging teen years. Janessa was always genuine and bold... her compassion and love... overflowing... and her essence... lingering. The world is less bright and less kind without this beautiful woman.

“ *And so, now You are gone,
And there is nothing left to see
Its your voice i want to hear...
Is that you, loud boots walking
That I can easily still feel?*

*I have started now to sing,
Trying to learn from deep within
How to bring
Into this world
The same light that you once did.*

*too late now to tell I know,
How much in awe I admired
All you were, all you bring,
And how strong you braved to exist.*

*Now you dance and prance in glory
Were you always seemed to hurry
Among burning stars, fiery clouds,
Blooming flowers and the loveliest of the turquoise,
Rest in power, old bright soul
Safe again forever be.*

Janessa words cannot express my heartbreak and eternal love for you. Although you left many broken hearts here on this earth I take comfort in knowing that you are now free to soar and shine through the expanse of the universe playing your beautiful music and singing with the angels. Your light will always shine the brightest in the night sky. Until we meet again you will always be in my heart. Love You "Stinkers"! Jesse

Janessa, words cannot express the sadness that resides in me since the day you passed. Every time I go outside I look towards your house and hope that I see you outside, wishing I am in a dream that I can't wake up from. That Thursday before you passed, you came over and hugged me and told me that you loved me so much. We exchanged hugs and I love you's and you left. If I knew that was the last time that I would be seeing you, I would have hugged you a little tighter. Every time I saw you, you always had a smile on your face. I will miss you and love you always. My deepest condolences to Jedidia the kids and your entire family. Mario and Dora Cooremans
