“ My mother was a very special mother. She fought her battle with Alzheimer's and fought to the end. She was strong and very loving to all. And she talked to people wherever she went. She taught us to love each other but to love God more and put him first in our lives always. I will miss my super mom. And a super mom she was and always will be in my heart. I love you mom. No more pain mamma fly with the angels. Your in God's hands now my super mom. I miss you dearly.

Mrs. Lopez is a beautiful woman I am truly honored to have met. She was always welcoming, happy and steadfast in her faith. She raised a beautiful family. God bless her and may she rest eternally in peace. ❤️

I am truly blessed and honored to call this beautiful woman my mom! She loved us so much and was always there for us through the good and bad times, because that's what a loving mother she was. Everytime we left her house to go home she always blessed us with the sign of the cross. But when she could no longer do it, my kids would get her hand and make the sign of the cross on them as if she was doing it. They made sure they didn't leave without her blessings. My mom loved all her grandchildren as they were her own and she always told us not to forget to pray at night. I'm going to miss my mommy. 😭💔

To a very special aunt who helped grandma raised me and my sister as we lost our parents at a very young age. She will always have a very special place in my heart. May tia Chiquita rest in peace, I ask God for strength and comfort for her children as they are a beautiful family. With love, Jesse Noriega and family.
