I still feel like you are here, but I know you are no longer in any kind of pain and that makes me smile. You still felt like you had work to do here on earth, but God had other plans and he makes no mistakes. Nathan will know you are his grandfather and how much you wanted him and loved him already. God bless you and see you later. Love you, Nicole.

It's already December 3rd and just found out about sweet Jerry's demise. Robert (Bobby) Watts all time friend s sister, Annie Watts Posey. Sadness filled our hearts. Memories have always been good ones of Jerry from childhood to now. We are St. James alumni, Southside family and personal friends from years on end. The webpost was very beautiful. My prayers for him, his beautiful mother, his brother, his children and all family will be special tonight. The priest who prayed the rosary was genuinely wonderful. The Spirit of the Lord is with you all. In Jesus name we pray.

“ I have been thinking of dad a lot these past few weeks, especially when I look at my son. He would constantly ask when were Roger and I gonna have a baby. I would tell him, "Dad, I don't see that happening for us, I'm old". Of course, he would smile and just let it rest until the next time I saw him and say I would make a great mother and I would smile it off. And he would tell Roger that he did not have to ask permission. I just could not understand why it meant so much to him. The last time I spoke to him I was exhausted because my son had his days and nights mixed up. My dad barely had a voice and managed to tell me as clearly as possible that he loved me, that he was proud of my husband and me for our accomplishments despite our obstacles. He said being rich is not everything. Being a good person is more important. He thanked my husband for loving me the way he did and for taking care of me and Nathan. He told him he was a good man and when he met him 25 years ago, he knew he would be. He told me I was strong and about the day I was born. He told me to read the book of Job. He said he wanted to teach Nathan how to fish and ride a bike and how to be a man. We talked about how when he got better we would do this and that. He did not want me to bring the baby to see him because he had been in and out of the hospital. We spoke of many things but I will keep the rest to myself. When we hung up, I knew I may never speak to him again because he said even if I am not with you, feel me, I am with you and he said he was tired and was going to get some rest. If anyone knows my dad, he is full of energy, hyper. I told my husband what I felt and he said just pray for him. We did, daily. And God decided to take him home. I am going to and I really do miss him, but I carry him in my heart. There will never be another. All I have left to say is if you have been feeling the need to speak to a loved one, do it. You never know what will happen tomorrow. Resolve any undone issues because it will give you the strength you need when you lose that loved one. God is merciful and loving. I love you Dad. Until we meet again.-Nicole

“ Jerry and I went to St. James and knew each other for around 55 years going back to around 1965. Jerry and his family moved to California around the 5th grade and when he returned, we would walk home from St. James everyday. I remember I would ask what it was like living in California and we would about living in California. I also remember going to visit him at his home on Saldana Street and seeing his beautiful Collie dog named Buster.

We also attended Central Catholic High School together and remember my sister Chris drove us to school the first day. I will always be grateful to Jerry for driving me and my date to the Central Prom at the Turtle Creek Country Club during our junior year. I was not driving yet and my parents would have had to take me had it not been for Jerry taking us in his Mom's yellow Dodge Charger. For that, I thanked him when I would see him.

It was a few years ago when I last saw Jerry at Rudy's Fish. I was visiting from California and we spoke for a awhile. There are so many memories of Jerry and our times together. I will always remember our California dreaming.

Jerry left us too soon and will be missed. I am thankful he is at Peace with Our Lord.

“ Jerry and I played baseball together for St. James. He was the pitcher I was the catcher. He was a good pitcher but he had a little wild side to him and I was afraid he would hit a batter in the game, he never did. But during practice when I would come up to bat he would always end up hitting me with his pitches. I never got hit in a game, only at practice. Of course he would apologize to me. Playing around I would ask him why me? He told me "guess Im just trying to get it out of my system?"

“ I knew Jerry since the 60's. We used to bread the fish for the Rudy's seafood restaurant. As we got older, we played baseball. We played span American League and traveled around Texas and Mexico. He was a hell of a pitcher. The Ramirez family were awesome people to know. Roland and I graduated from Burbank. Jerry was a cool dude and a big brother to Roland and I. Jerry you will be missed . Rest In Peace my brother. My condolences go to the family.

“ Jerry was my brother in law, and the father of niece and nephew. He had a personality beyond anyone I ever met. He was very good to me. Its sad he's not with us anymore but we all know he's not suffering anymore. The last time I saw him in April, he made me feel loved just like I did when I met him 45 yrs ago. May you rest in peace Jerry. You will truly be missed, but we shall all meet again someday. Condolences to all the family... Sincerely, Annette Garcia.
