“ Hi - this is Gary Juhl, one of several poker players from the Monday evening monthly poker group that John played with. John was such a delight to get to know. We had a lot of friendly banter back and forth during our poker games which gave us the pleasure getting to know Elizabet as well. My wife Debbie enjoyed her company and even ran into her at a store every now and then - I think they were both great shoppers! John had a famous saying that always came up when he lost out on a close hand when another player had slightly better cards. Trying to justify why he stayed "in" until the end when he thought he had a winning hand, John would declare "With those cards, I had to do it"! Rest in peace John - you drew a winning hand this time!
