“ Bill was a shy man but after awhile we began to "pick on" each other at our small group meetings. I was raised with three brothers and we teased a lot so I was used to it. He would make a comment and I would act as though I were shocked and he would chuckle. He was a big man, who tried to come off as silent and tough but he really was a marshmallow. He loved to help others and cooking was the gift God gave him to do that. Once a month he would bring Steve and I a jar of salsa and it didn't take long for it disappear. We will miss sitting in the rockers with him before service on Saturday evenings. Our small group will miss his presence. He was always ready to help after our meetings by putting the room to rights. I told Renate that I wondered what project he might be working on in Heaven. He was always busy and that is what made him happy. Our lives have been enriched by knowing him.

“ Renate, Karen and Thomas our thoughts and prayers are with and for you . I worked with bill on numerous projects for ENCF and personal and when a personal project came up he was always available. I would ask or offer payment and the answer was always the same “ no, but I do like tacos or pork tamales”. Truly a great man and friend. He will be missed but not forgotten. And he loved doing the men's breakfast and there were not many leftovers either !!! Billy and Patti Hendrix and family
