Smitty was a very talented man. He started working at an early age to help support his Mother and other Family members doing various odd jobs including driving a truck. He soon worked alongside one of his Uncles as a Carpenter. They worked at Lackland AFB in San Antonio to build the Barracks for the troops.

Not long after that Smitty started driving 18 wheelers/ Big Rigs. He hauled film to Movie Theatres throughout Texas, hauled cars out of Detroit and so forth. When he started hauling Petroleum Products, he seemed to have found his calling. He worked for Union Transport for a few years then went on to Coastal Transport. There he found a group of folks that became "Part of the Family" as he did with them. He had many adventures including hauling Antique and Classic Cars with Kenneth Wagner for their boss Bob Atwell. They were quite the Pair. They traveled to Many Prestigious Car Shows including the Pebble Beach Show.

Smitty enjoyed spending time with his family. They would go on “Sunday drives” and he would show them new places he had found along his drive while working. Sometimes it was a great little spot to get Honey, get a good Meal, a New Bakery or Texas Historical sites. It was never dull.

Smitty enjoyed Dancing, Fishing, Hunting, Gardening and a variety of other activities. He was also an Ace at Grilling and making Margaritas. More than all of that he was a Great Husband and a Wonderful Daddy!

“ Smitty was always smiling and ready to do whatever it took to do what had to be done. He was a dear close friend of my father R.L "Bob" Atwell. They all worked hard ,enjoyed their work and their fun at car concours all over the United States . Our family enjoyed working with Smitty and Lillian and their family including the Schnazers.
